Does God Love Everyone The

Scripture's full teaching on God's love sheds needed light on aphorisms such as "God loves everyone the same way," or "God loves us unconditionally." In many places Scripture depicts God's love as conditioned by obedience, Carson points out. On the other hand, God's love for his people is unconditional—thanks to the work of Christ.

Does God Love Everyone the Same?

And it's just not true that God loves us unconditionally. He's placed an absolute condition by which He requires—He doesn't just invite people to come to His Son—He commands all men everywhere to repent of their sins and to come to Christ. And if you want to enjoy the love of complacency you have to be in Christ.

Is It Biblical to Say That God Loves Everyone?

Answer: There is a sense in which God loves everyone in the whole world ( John 3:16; 1 John 2:2; Romans 5:8 ). This love is not conditional—it is rooted in God’s character and based on the fact that He is a God of love ( 1 John 4:8, 16 ). God’s love for everyone could be thought of as His “merciful love,” since it results in the fact that God does not immediately punish people for their sins ( Romans 3:23; 6:23 ).

Does God love everyone or just Christians? | GotQuestions.org

While God does love everyone, relationship with Him is restored only through the sacrifice of Jesus. God loves those who do not yet know Him, and He longs for them to turn to Him (2 Peter 3:9). He will woo them to Himself and give them opportunity to come to saving faith, but He will not deny His justice. So only those who have been saved by grace through faith will experience God's love for eternity. So, yes, God does love everyone. But only those who follow God can enter into the fullness

Is It Biblical to Say That God Loves Everyone? - YouTube

If you believe that God loves everyone, let's take this belief to its logical conclusion: either God stops loving unbelievers at some point, or He never stops, even after they're in hell. The ultimate extension of this logic is that everyone, eventually, will end up in heaven, and that hell will be empty. Does this sound familiar?

Does God Love Everyone? (Part 2) – To the Remnant

Does God love everyone is disputed, abused, misunderstood, and perverted. There are many being confused and lead astray when it comes to God's love. In doing this I will not even scratch the surface of the bottomless well of the love of God. — The teaching goes like this, God loves you and accepts you.
